DEMON NICOTINE SLAYS

No Matter What It Is, There Is Sure to Be Cure For It

A. W. Mayne of the Gateway Automotive Works, 327 West Los Feliz road, tells the following story which fits in well with selling Titan storage batteries:
"Bill," said the doctor, "you have pschydermatous epithelium."
"Never mind what I have, doc; fix me up."
And so it goes with motorists who visit the Titan service station. Doesn't matter what they have, they are "fixed up right."
E. W. Kingsley of the Day and Night Garage, 217 East Broadway, also has the Titan Agency in Glendale and is enthusiastic over the opportunity which enables his shop to give practically all kinds of service to the motorists.

Local Men Indicted By Federal Jury in Booze Ring Inquiry

The old saying that "the government never forgets" is borne out in the announcement of the federal grand jury's indictment of "Chuck" Wilson, Paul Hirschler, W. Y. Kynce, Ed Roberts, Boyd Dennis and Guy Wells in connection with the activities of an alleged booze ring here last summer.
Ernest Thede, who gave officers damaging information against his companions, is the only one going free. It is understood that several of the indicted men have left these parts. Incidentally, these indictments were the last important acts of the 1921 jury.

PLANS TO COMBINE MUSIC PROJECTS ARE PROPOSED

Memory Contest, Campaign to Secure Records May Be Taken Up Together

Plans are being worked out whereby the proposed music memory contest, which is to begin January 25 under the direction of Mrs. Dora Gibson and extend over a period of one month, and the state-wide campaign for phonograph records for use in the rural schools, may be combined, according to Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, president of the Glendale Music club.
During the music memory contest, account of which appeared in a recent issue of The Glendale Evening News, it is planned to have forty records played at the schools, music stores and possibly the theatres, ten to be played each week. It will be necessary that the committee in charge of the contest secure the proper records for this use, and it is hoped that they will be donated, to be used later as a part of the circulating library of records for use in the rural schools.
The following are the records which will be used during the contest:

- First Week
"Largo" (Handel), "Hallelujah Chorus" (Handel), "Morning" from "Peer Gynt" (Greig), "Triumphal March" from "Aida" (Verdi), "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" (Old English), "Spring Song" (Mendelssohn), "Minuet Waltz" (Chopin), "Menuet" (Paderewski), "Intermezzo" from "Cavalleria Rusticana" (Mascagni), "Marche Militaire" (Schubert).

(Schubert), "Surprise Symphony" (Haydn), Overture to "William Tell" finale (Rossini), "From the Land of Sky-Blue Water" (Cadman), "Humoresque" (Dvorak), "Rosary" (Nevin), "Wedding March" (Mendelssohn).
- Third Week
"To a Water Lily" (MacDowell), "Toreador's Song from Carmen" (Bizet), "Overture to Midsummer Night's Dream" (Mendelssohn), "Fifth Symphony" Andante, (Beethoven), "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia" (Negro), "Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin" (Wagner), "Melody in F" (Rubenstein), "Military Polonaise" (Chopin), "Narcissus" (Nevin), "Pomp and Circumstance" (Elgar).

Eye Transfers From Animal to Human Possible

LONDON—A step further has been taken in the science of transplanting the eye from one living thing to another blind one.
Dr. Theodor Koppanyi, a young Vienna scientist who has already grafted eyes on blind fish, frogs and cats, has now achieved a higher success. This time the animal is a rabbit.
A correspondent was introduced to Dr. W. Kolmer, an equally famous scientist, who is aiding Dr. Koppanyi and the two men showed him all their collection of animals.
A rabbit was brought from a hutch and Dr. Koppanyi explained that two weeks ago it was blind. He had grafted the eyes of another rabbit on it, and he claimed that the experiment was entirely successful.
The rabbit showed every sign that it could see perfectly, recoiling from a stick placed near its head and averting its head when a powerful light was directed straight at it.
The two professors are now turning their attention to monkeys, and, if they achieve success, they will then come to the crucial test—the human experiment.
Dr. Koppanyi believed that monkey's eyes could be grafted on human beings.
When he is able to collect sufficient funds monkeys will be bought and the experiments will be carried out on them. So far the doctor has only one monkey, the gift of a man in Vienna.
Dr. Koppanyi was asked whence he would get human eyes with which to supply blind men and women.
The correspondent was shown a letter from an English woman living in Jersey who offers one of her eyes as a gift to a man blinded in the war. She signed herself "V. A. D."
Two other offers have been made, one from a Cuban and one from a Hungarian, who is willing to sell one of his eyes.
Pathetic letters from blind persons all over the world are coming to Dr. Koppanyi, and a blind American offers $200,000 as the price of new eyes.

CHICAGO—Chicago's astounding 1921 divorce record—approximately 8000 divorces granted during the year—does not surprise Gustave ("Gus") Wedemier, circuit court divorce clerk, who has listened to more divorce cases than any man in Chicago.

"Big year," said Gus. "Certainly. But why not? We still have red-blooded people, haven't we? We always have lots of divorcees, and I think it will always be so. But after all, there are thousands of happy families. The percentage of divorcees is really small."

Judge Charles A. McDonald, Superior Court Jurist, said it was the same old story all year—drunkenness, cruelty, desertion and infidelity.

The war, the Eighteenth Amendment, the depression in business all helped," he said. "Nothing seems to act as a check. Same old story told in the same old way."

Deaths and Funerals CLAIR J. CRANE Numerous friends in Glendale today will be grieved to learn of the death of Clair J. Crane at 12:40 o'clock this morning, Saturday, January 14, 1922 at his home, 543 South Lorena street, Los Angeles.

He was born in Inlay, Michigan, March 28, 1888 and was 33 years of age. After the death of his mother, the family moved to California fifteen years ago.

Unusual artistic ability enabled Mr. Crane to develop into an expert manufacturing jeweler. Upon leaving Glendale, he followed this vocation in Los Angeles.

Mr. Crane is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Crane; his father, William H. Crane; his foster mother, Mrs. E. A. Morse; two brothers, Harold A. Crane of Pasadena and Morris E. Crane of Big Bear Lake; and one sister, Mrs. E. D. Brooks of San Diego.

A FURTHER WORD

The mutualization of "The Provident" will be completed by the vote of its policyholders on the 18th inst. The majority will probably be about 1000 to 1.

No company was ever mutualized on a basis so equitable to all concerned.

Every authority on insurance, so far as heard from, approves the action and thinks it can result in nothing but good. Asa S. Wing will continue to be our president and you will notice little or no change in the other officers.

With our extremely low mortality, good interest rate and Quaker management how will any company on earth be able to equal us in low net cost?

HOPES ARE DIMMED FOR BASKET BALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Locals Go to Monrovia and Are Badly Walloped; Score? Why, It's 42 to 16

Glendale high school's hopes for championship 1922 basketball season were given a severe jolt yesterday afternoon when the locals were overwhelmed by the Monrovia court artists by the top heavy score of 42 to 16.

The game, which was the first of the Central league season, was played on the Monrovia courts before a crowd of several hundred rabid rooters. The Monrovia followers, who have always been known to be keen rivals of Glendale, seemed to get a considerable "kick" out of "rubbing it into" the locals.

At the end of the first half the score stood 20 to 5. Coach Butterfield then sent in four substitutes, who succeeded in making more than twice the number of points totaled by the original team, but they were unable to stop the fast and accurate shots of Bronson, forward, and Shaw, the dusky guard.

Stars Still Shine It will be remembered by the football fans that it was this pair that snatched the championship from Glendale in the game held on Armistice Day.

During their four years of athletics for the green and whites, they have been the stars in everything they went into, and it is they who deserve all the blame for the locals defeat.

Goertz, last year's letter man and star forward, substituted in the second half for Warthman at center, and although in a new position played in his old form, making six out of the total number of points scored. He has been nursing a sprained wrist for the past week, and was unable to start, but was saved for a pinch. The other substitutes who went in were all members of the 120 pound squad, and they played excellent basketball.

The locals were at a big disadvantage, the tilt being staged on an outside court, which was uneven and rough. Practice has been held in the gymnasium, and the Red and Blacks couldn't get used to the new conditions.

Meet Covina Next The next game will be held with Covina, on the home grounds, and this also will be held on an outside court, and Coach Butterfield is planning some strenuous scrimmages on the newly erected outside courts, and it is expected they will be in a better condition to play than they were yesterday.

The lineup: Glendale: McManus and Colburn, forwards; Warthman, center; Cline and Ringstad, guards. Substitutes: Goertz for Warthman, Ageson for McManus, Haig for Colburn, and McIver for Ringstad.

Monrovia: Bronson and Burke, forwards; Gilmore, center; Shaw and Bender, guards.

Jury of Lawyers in 5-Minute Will Verdict

COLUMBUS, Ohio—A jury, made up of twelve local attorneys, decided a will contest here.

When the case involving a contest over the will of the late George W. Bigelow was taken up Common Pleas Judge Daniel Sowers found the regular jurors had left the court house.

The judge ordered his bailiff to impress into service any dozen men he found inside the court house. The bailiff found twelve lawyers in the corridors, though the law exempts them from jury service, they waived their rights and were sworn in.

Deputy Probate Judge Frank E. Powell was the only witness. He identified the will.

The jury then retired. Nearly an hour had expired when the jurors informed the court of their inability to reach a verdict and asked for permission to go to dinner.

When informed they must forego eating until they returned a verdict, the dozen attorneys consumed just five minutes in agreeing that the will is valid.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Stop Propagandists! Drunkenness Scores Again Less Apricots, More Homes Conscience Contributions

By Gil A. Cowan

IN THE HISTORY of every city there are municipal questions arising which cause the body politic to be riled, officials censured, then vindicated, re-elected, retired, etc.

Yet, when all is said and done, the harsh statements made in the heat of political excitement look foolish and honestly could not be attributed to people of sound reason.

Not more than three months ago it was boldly announced in Los Angeles that Glendale would have a fourth-class postoffice, no more free carrier service and be little more than nothing. Then it took the combined argument of six wise men to disabuse the minds of many that the petty official giving out such information was dead wrong in view of recent occurrences.

Annexationists undoubtedly will use the sewer system and any other subject they can lay tongue to effectually enough to cause an election, but the rank and file of voters will not be led into any traps.

The sooner Los Angeles learns that Glendale does not want to be a part of that municipality, but has plans of its own in building what will eventually be a representative borough, the more good will be accomplished.

Los Angeles police records show a gain in the number of drunks, a rather appalling fact considering the cost of prohibition enforcement. And in that year the looseness of the lid in the City of the Angels was so marked that even the local prohibition enforcement officer accused the state director of permitting it to be tilted.

Were it possible to sentence moonshiners and bootleggers to be shot at sunrise and give every drunk one year in prison and loss of his citizenship, it might be possible to make this country dry. But, as long as drinking is like winking at the speed law and moonshining is a sportive occupation, why should there not be an increase in drunkenness?

Another apricot orchard is passing, another slice of the Thion tract is becoming residential property and another section of Glendale will soon blossom forth with homes.

The demand for residence lots is so great that Cameron D. Thom of the Glendale Realty company has been forced to throw more of the estate holdings onto the market. It seems as though the tide of population is surging higher than ever before and the owner of vacant property today stands a good opportunity of selling to best advantage.

K. C. Ingram, editor of the Southern Pacific News Bureau, and Fred Q. Tredway, his associate, used to work together in Bakersfield, where the writer of this column was employed. That's the reason we all appreciate the following yarn:

Contributions to the "conscience fund" of the Southern Pacific company ranging in amounts from 3 cents to $75, during the period from 1907 to 1921, inclusive, amount to $1,164.67.

The contributions come from both patrons and employees of the company. A Bakersfield, Calif., resident sent in $1.53 to cover additional amount due the railroad as the result of his 13-year-old boy riding from Fresno to Bakersfield on a half fare ticket. An employe in Los Angeles refunded $5.13 he received as a result of overcharges on his expense account.

Three one-cent stamps were received from a man who unknowingly rode from Melrose to Havenscourt on the Southern Pacific line. A woman sent $50 because her conscience troubled her after she had allowed her six-and-one-half-year-old child to ride free from Missoula, Mont., to San Diego, Cal., and return.

From Portland, Ore., 80 cents was contributed by a man who said he had thrown two barrel covers owned by the company into the Marys river. "When I was a boy," wrote a Klamath Falls, Ore., man, "I took a free ride from Gazelle to Montague, Cal. I enclose 20 cents to cover the fare."

A number of men who had stolen rides on freight trains reimbursed the company. Many contributors to the "conscience fund" said they were squaring their accounts with the railroad because they had been converted through the efforts of religious workers.

Stork Is Partial to Kansas City Visits

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Kansas City can boast a marked increase in babies in 1921. According to the vital statistics bureau, Kansas City's production of babies up until December 1 showed an increase of 296 over the same period in 1920. Figures reveal that there were 6,190 births in the eleven months during 1921.

On the other hand, infant mortality figures showed a decrease. On December 1 last year 709 babies less than a year old had died, whereas this year only 580 had died. Among the 6,190 babies born this year there were only sixty-six pairs of twins, compared to seventy-two in the total births of last year. One lone group of triplets was born during the year and all of the trio of infants died.

The numerous visits of the stork revealed that fond parents have christened many of their children with similar names. The most popular name was Betty for girls. Among the boys William topped the list.

COMMANDER TELLS PLANS OF LEGION FOR NEW YEAR

fought for higher wages and got them.

"If the proposed adjusted compensation act is passed during the next session of Congress, and we have reason to believe that it will, the present plan is to collect a pool from the allotments granted to veterans who feel that they can spare them, thus creating a great rotating fund which shall be loaned by the Legion to needy veterans without interest."

In outlining the plans for the local organization for the coming year Commander McBryde stated that 1922 with Glendale Post "will be a year of co-operation and business administration." The new slogan of the officers is "A doubled membership and new home by January 1, 1923."

Short Talks Are Made
 Following the commander's address a series of short speeches were given by Chalmers Day, first vice commander; Jesse Flower, second commander; Joe Wilson, adjutant; Wilbur Lee, treasurer; and Clarence Edwards, sergeant-at-arms. Past commanders Dru Nicoles and Emil Kiefer responded to requests of the members with short talks.

The various committees as announced by the commander were as follows:

Membership—Don Packer, Richardson D. White and Frederick Butts.

Sick and Relief—Thomas D. Watson, C. B. Guthrie and G. E. Murphy. House—M. Frug, Joe Wilson and Wilbur Lee.

Employment—Dru Nicoles, William H. Reeves and Julius Moniot.

Athletic—Ralph E. Dodsworth, Allen Bullis and Woodruff Bunker.

Social—Chalmers Day, Gordon Clayton and Jim Heiby Mc.

Publicity—Howard McGillis and Dr. G. Kaemmerling.

Legal—Owen C. Emery.

Program—F. C. Weller and A. H. Jones.

Auditing—Gordon Clayton and Harry Francey.

Additional appointments made by Commander McBryde were Henry Prussing, inner guard, and Rev. E. Preston, chaplain.

Supports Constitution
 The post went on record as being "unqualifiedly behind the constitution of the United States in all of its provisions, both in actions and in spirit."

This action was taken following a general discussion by various members regarding laws that are "intentionally and carelessly violated by otherwise law-abiding citizens."

"If we don't happen to like some of the laws of the country the only thing to do is to change the laws," was the opinion voiced by Dwight W. Stephenson regarding the subject.

Dr. G. Kaemmerling, who is in charge of the final annual get-together banquet of the local post, announced that the date for the elaborate affair has been changed from Saturday night, January 21, to Friday night, January 20. The banquet, which is to be held in the new Citizens' building on South Brand boulevard, will consist of a specially selected program of music and speeches will be presented. Mattison B. Jones of this city is to be the principal speaker of the occasion.

Next week's regularly scheduled meeting of the post will be called off in order to stage the banquet, which will begin at 6:45 o'clock sharp.

George W. Sutton of Tennessee Buys Arthur Wells' Home

George W. Sutton, former attorney-general of Tennessee, and who has just arrived in Glendale and is a personal friend of City Attorney Bert P. Woodard, has purchased and will take possession today of the beautiful home at 462 West Burchett street formerly owned by Arthur Wells.

As stated in a recent issue of the Glendale Evening News, Mr. and Mrs. Wells are leaving Glendale for a two years' tour with the Chautauqua circuit. The sale was made through the James W. Pearson real estate agency of North Brand boulevard.

Mr. Pearson also reported the leasing of stores in the new Parker building on Brand boulevard between Wilson and California, of which he is exclusive agent. One of the stores has been rented to Plumb Brothers for a real estate office and another to an automobile tire agency from Long Beach.

Another sale by Mr. Pearson is that of a new Caldwell bungalow at 415 Vine street to his younger brother, Isaac, who is coming to Glendale next week from Oakley, Cal., and expects to make his permanent home here.

Bell Hurst Tract No. 2 Popular With Many Realty Buyers

From Los Angeles, Hollywood and Pasadena purchasers are reported to be buying in Bell Hurst tract No. 2 which is marketed by the Glendale Realty company. These lots are located in the famous Thion apricot orchard which is being improved with all city conveniences. P. C. Brown, sales manager, will be on the tract Sunday to show the sites.

"A Safe Place to Buy a Used Car"

Houseboat Owners Are Asked to Pay $25 Tax

ROCHESTER, Pa.—If it isn't one thing it's another, to take the joy out of life, declare owners of houseboats along the Ohio river. Hitched to trees and other things are hundreds of houseboats. Owners bought the craft or build them to avoid the high cost of living and gouging landlords. Houseboats don't cost a whole lot, at least not nearly as much as a house or bungalow, and they are just as comfortable. Once you own one there is no high rent to pay.

Rochester borough needs the money. So, having taxed everything else in sight, a novel idea to raise more money by tax was hit upon. Why not tax the houseboats? Great idea. No quicker said than done. So the Borough Council thought $25 per year per houseboat would be all right. The boats are not taxed for property value. Better scheme than that. The tax will be for "rental of approximate space." That's a brand new one in tax terms, but it goes, say the Rochester councilmen. Notice was served on the boat owners, but so far they have failed to pay up. The last seen of a few of them they were floating down toward the Gulf of Mexico. The others, who are still anchored at the village wharf, are yet to be heard from. They, too, may "float" along before they pay that $25 tax.

One of the earliest unions of women workers in America, if not the very first was that organized by the mill girls of Dover, N. H., in 1828.

Size of Warship Is Restricted by Chains

WASHINGTON—The Washington arms conference was not altogether necessary to limit the size of individual battleships, it has just become known. At least two factors have operated to keep the size of warships within certain limits. One of them is the Panama Canal, which, it is generally known, has received considerable attention as to the possibility of its putting a limit on the size of American battleships. The second factor is nothing less than the anchor chain. Up to recently anchor chains and all ground tackle were made of wrought iron, and as the size of all classes of ships increased the strain on the anchor chains grew proportionately, until, in the words of a report on the subject, "it has almost become a question as to whether or not the size of vessels might be limited, or at least materially affected by adhering to the use of wrought iron for ground tackle."

The navy being vitally concerned, experts set to work, and in the past year have made all kinds of experiments endeavoring to develop a more substantial metal. It is said now that cast steel is proving very promising. Use of cast steel, it is said, will prove not only more economical in weight but also in cost.

The origin of Free Masonry, or even the name, cannot be traced with certainty. Visitors to Italy who travel on Sunday have to pay a special tax.

FIGHT HIGH MILLINERY TAX

BERLIN — German women who possess the vote are up in arms against the decision of Chancellor Wirth as Finance Minister that women's hats are luxuries and are to be taxed accordingly. The fact that the Chancellor is a bachelor may have led him into what the women regard as an outrage as well as a blunder.

Lichens are eaten in various parts of the world. In times of famine a species of lichen in Northern Asia serves as food for the Tartar tribes living there. Due to the fact that Chinese swallows make their nests of lichen, the Chinese eat the nests, which have great nutritive value.

WELL, WHO WILL CARE?

HONOLULU, T. H. — A possible shortage of ukuleles, guitars and various souvenirs made of the famous koa (Hawaiian mahogany), is threatened as a result of a recent conflagration in a Honolulu planing mill and lumber yard. The fire destroyed a pile containing 10,000 feet of koa wood, said to be the largest supply of this rare wood on hand in the islands.

Belgian Government Fighting Drug Traffic

LONDON—The Belgian government has decided to employ a corps of women searchers, who will make frequent surprise visits to frontier and outpost stations and subject women passengers in trains coming from Germany to a down-to-the-skin examination.

This decision has been taken because of the ever-increasing abuse of cocaine and heroin in the country. By the law of October, 1919, the importation, production, manufacture and sale of stupefying drugs of this variety, excepting for medical purposes, is forbidden.

These drugs are manufactured in Germany for the most part and brought into Belgium by young women. With some dresses the task of the custom officers will be very difficult. A dress with extensive paniers, or a crinoline skirt will offer opportunities for concealing large amounts of drugs.

An increase in the abuse of drugs has coincided with anti-gambling and pussyfoot legislation in Belgium.

The group of fapes includes the gibbons, orang-outangs, chimpanzees and gorillas.

Law's Leniency to Blame for Numerous Accidents, Is Claim

Are auto accidents in this county directly traceable to the leniency of the laws governing motor vehicles?

This vital question in motordom has arisen as the result of reports submitted to the Automobile Club of Southern California by various justices who are engaged in trying to sentence autoists to terms in jail and discovering in the process that they are handicapped by the laws.

"The leniency of the law in allowing a motorist caught speeding to have five days of grace before appearing in court, instead of being taken at once to the police station as would be done with a man caught stealing chickens or planting a bomb under the orphanage, is one of the worst features of the present law, according to reports received by the club.

"Speed," strange as it may seem to the reader, is not the "worst boy" in the school of auto accidents. In fact, there are many other causes contributing vitally to the delinquency of the accident records.

It's the little things that count, particularly, according to the judges handing out jail sentences at the present time. Minor offenses of the law cause some of the worst accidents, it is pointed out, and yet the law itself does not provide for jail sentences to be administered in the cases of these more minor offenses. Amend the laws, cry the judges, and help to step accidents.

However, 1922 is going to be a "mean" year for the motoring speedster, and for the minor offender, for throughout southern California the courts of justice have uniformly agreed, according to word sent the automobile club, to hand out sentences which will have the sting of a lash in them.

Modern Ideas Strong With English Women

LONDON—How strong is the modern woman idea in England?

Judging by the frequent attacks published in the British press by elderly social workers, the English girl is completely weaned away from the conventions of the nineteenth century.

The latest attack comes from Mrs. Kendall, who, in a speech at Thres Arts club, told her audience that the modern descendants of Eve are too fond of money and have too much desire to get at the height of their ambitions at 25, whereas, it used to be 40 or thereabouts. They also are anxious to get the best of clothes at an early age, she added—and not too much of them.

An enterprising London newspaper published a symposium of the views of leading actresses on Mrs. Kendall's accusations. The stage women were unanimous in scoffing at her reproaches.

Is ambition a crime? they asked. And their own answer to the rhetorical question was a decided "No!"

Bargains in Used Cars

The used car situation is much better this week, according to Jesse Smith, local Ford agent. He admitted, however, that second hand cars had been somewhat of a drug on the market and that in many cases it had been necessary to sell old cars before customers would buy new ones. Consequently many people have been picking up bargains in used cars.

Business Outlook Excellent

There is no indication of a slump in business, according to Henry M. Kuhn of the E. W. Cizek Service Station, 300 South Brand boulevard. He stated yesterday that the outlook was very promising. In comparing 1922 with 1921 he declared that there seemed to be more money available. He called attention to the fact that last winter people were clutching their pocketbooks and waiting to learn the trend of the market.

Closed Cars Are Popular

Automobile purchasers continue to favor closed cars, according to William A. Tanner of Tanner & Hall, Ltd., 237 South Brand boulevard. He is inclined to believe that one reason for the increasing popularity of coupes and sedans is because the public is becoming educated to the all-year-around utility of these cars. He called attention to the fact that almost two closed cars are being sold now to every open car.

To Have Attractive Sign

Any autoist who fails to locate the Club Garage, 167 East Elk street, in the future will not be very observing, according to Jack St. Clair, its new proprietor. In order that there may be no doubt as to the identity of the establishment, he is having a five-pointed sign constructed to be hung over the door. Besides the name, it will inform those interested that the telephone number of the Club Garage is Glendale 646. "Jack" says "Business is fine and dandy."

Made By Noted Company

One reason the Westinghouse battery has such excellence, according to Ray Fallick of the Westinghouse Service Station, 233 South Brand boulevard, is because it is made by the same company which manufactures the Westinghouse air brake and other railway appliances. On account of the importance of these contrivances in the industrial field, Mr. Fallick does not believe that the organization could afford to produce a poor storage battery. He called attention to the fact that the Westinghouse company has a reputation to uphold instead of a new one to establish.

Warning for Motorists

"Why gamble with death to gain a minute?" inquires a placard prepared by the safety department of the Southern Pacific railroad and now on display at 248 South Brand boulevard in the window of the branch office of the Southern California Automobile Club. "A train at usual speed runs one-quarter of a mile in 18 seconds," declares the poster. "In the first nine months of 1921, seventy-six automobiles stalled on our tracks; 293 tried to turn right and failed; 154 ran or skidded into trains; five ran down crossing flagmen; fifty-five broke down crossing gates; twenty-six persons were killed; 190 were injured. If they had stopped, this would not have happened."

Prices of Paige Reduced

A price drop on all eleven models of the Paige, which range from $205 to $895, is announced by E. E. Sawyer at 398 East 4th street, the newly established branch of the Sunset Motor Works of Los Angeles and Hollywood.

The cut was announced several weeks ago in Los Angeles. Mr. Sawyer stated yesterday that it had caused unusual interest both among present and prospective Paige owners.

Mr. Sawyer commented upon the fact that the cut means a reduction from $2350 to $2535 on the largest model—or $815.

The Sunset Motor Works is not only agency for the Paige but the Dort as well and owners of these cars have been dropping in daily to get acquainted with Mr. Sawyer and his assistants.

Take Repairs in Time

Not to put off small automobile repair jobs lest they become big ones, is the advice of H. C. Ferguson of the Standard Garage, 110 South Kenwood street.

While he was lying upon his back on a "rocker" and taking away at the innards of a Ford yesterday afternoon, he commented upon co-ordination between different "organs" of automobiles.

To specify how a small job might become a big one, he called attention to the fact that a chipped driving shaft pinion, which might be repaired for $7 or $8, would chip the shaft ring gear and finally cause damage to the differential case, which would cost about $30 to have fixed.

Mr. Ferguson also remarked that cylinder packing rings should be adjusted immediately that an engine begins to pump oil or else carbon will be generated in the cylinders which will cause them to overheat and scorch.

December Record Month

"We were told that December would be a light month on account of the holidays," remarked H. M. Parker of the Autoelectric Service station, 113 West Harvard street, yesterday afternoon. "But it was the best month since we started in business last March. January is coming on still better."

Mr. Parker expects to attend the convention of Southern California Exide Battery dealers Monday and —Get dependable performance. Consider the fact that such a concern as Westinghouse could not, for the protection of a half-century-old reputation, make a battery that did not reflect the supremacy Westinghouse achieved in other things—notably the air brake and kindred railway safety appliances.

—In Westinghouse you'll get a battery built by minds long trained and hands especially skilled in battery construction. A battery that is vigorous, powerful, long-lived, resourceful—capable of meeting even the heaviest winter demands.

Place Auto Licenses on Machine Correctly

In the rush of getting your state licenses for the new year, Mr. Motorist, don't forget to place them correctly on your car!

This final word of warning, before the big rush begins, was just sent out by the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Many motorists place their new license plates in an unlawful manner on their cars, and the state department is going to make many arrests for this offense during the coming year, according to advices received by auto club officials.

See that your license plates are not obscured by the bumpers, front or rear, when you place them. Be sure, warns the club, that the tail-light is in such a position that it illuminates the rear plate at night.

Keep your plates clean and avoid driving with them in a smashed or obliterated condition because you will be pinched if you do. Aid in following the mandates of the law will be given you by the club experts when you apply for license applications and receive the plates.

GRAB MISBRANDED VINEGAR

COLUMBUS, Ohio—Officials of the Federal and State Departments of Agriculture are co-operating in a campaign throughout Ohio marked by confiscation of alleged misbranded and adulterated vinegar.

Within a period of about four weeks approximately 500 barrels were seized, including sixty-one barrels taken from one Columbus wholesale grocery concern and thirty-eight from another.

It is claimed that much of this stuff, made by a New York firm, not only is misbranded "elder vinegar," but contains chemicals prohibited by both Federal and Ohio statutes.

Demand Goodyear Tires

"The demand for Goodyear tires with us is increasing every day," remarked H. C. Plume of the Monarch Auto Supply company, 121 South Brand boulevard, yesterday afternoon, commenting upon the increasing importance of the Goodyear branch plant in Los Angeles.

"There's a reason—a big reason," continued Mr. Plume. "Sixty per cent of the cars sold in the United States come from the factory equipped with Goodyear tires. When the average motorist once starts using Goodyear tires, he never changes. I think that is a fact peculiar to Goodyear tires more than to any other."

"The Goodyear plant continues to spend money for research work, always trying to improve its product. Goodyear tires are now better than ever. They always have been better tires, but they are now even better still. Since the last price drop on November 15, it is now possible to buy Goodyear tires at the price of inferior tires."

BUILD NOW

How often have you heard the expression "When my ship comes in I am going to do this or that" or "When luck favors me then I will undertake accomplishing certain things."

The few who are favored with legacies, who receive money other than by their own efforts, seldom apply constructive thoughts; too much money takes all the efforts and joys out of life and makes it hard to appreciate the worth-while things. It is the thrifty man or woman who adopts the saving habit, carefully considers the future and has the ability and stick-to-it-ness to make sacrifices if necessary to attain their goal, who are really happy, contented and get most out of life; these kind of folks represent the successful people you know. All around you is evidence of success, of determination to succeed, families who are happily housed in homes of their own, made a reality through conservative and continuous efforts; while on the other hand you have acquaintances who have and always will exist in homes provided by others, retained only at a monthly rental; they prefer to live up to their daily earnings, let the future care for itself and in later years condemn the world because of their self-styled misfortune.

There is an awakening time in the lives of every man and woman; it comes with the realization of old age and the thoughts of possible misfortune and adversities; it is then they make resolves for the future and come to know that the really worth-while things of life are attained only through persistent savings and consistent efforts, and when these are applied toward building or buying a home, it is then they appreciate fully the high ideal of existence.

You are never too young or too old to undertake acquiring a home. The longer you put it off the harder it is to make the start and the longer it will be before it is paid for and all your own. Surely you long for a home you can call your very own, and you are entitled to such a place, and today is the time to arrange for one.

This Model Home of Unique Design, stucco exterior and shingle roof, reflects distinctiveness not usually found in a home so small, and the alternate room arrangement gives such a variety of conveniences that it will meet the requirements of the average family.

Study the floor plans carefully; note the many special features that are incorporated, all designed to produce most home comforts at smallest possible cost, providing modern conveniences that lessen house work.

Any information regarding plans, cost to build, etc., will be gladly given.

SPORTS CHATTER

PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Of the phenomenal eight-oared crew that rowed the University of California's colors into second place at the Poughkeepsie Regatta last year, only two men, McMillan and Brown, are back at college this year. In other words, Coach Ben Wallis has to work out practically an entire new crew. Whether this new California crew will row at Poughkeepsie this year depends on whether the eight can defeat the University of Washington eight at the coast regatta to be rowed this year April 22 at Seattle, Wash.

To use his own words, Coach Ben Wallis is "desperate." "I am strictly up against it," said the California coach. "The great crew we had last year is shot to pieces. McMillan who rowed No. 6, and will captain this year's crew and Brown who rowed No. 3 are the only veterans I have to work on. At the present time I intend to try McMillan out at stroke. He should make a good man to take stroke Larson's slide and if this works out I will bring Brown down from No. 3 to No. 7. The other possibilities for a stroke are Peacock last year's freshman stroke, Jacobus, who stroked last year's second varsity and Larue, one of last year's freshmen who showed promise."

Wallis is distinctly worried. Washington has a number of last year's crew on which to build, and added to these men Coach Leander has last year's victorious freshman crew intact. California loses four men through graduation, Meehan, No. 7, Downs, No. 5; Marquardsen, No. 2, and Rogers, bow. Added to these natural losses, Kemp who held down No. 4, has transferred to Harvard university, Cambridge, Mass., and entered the law school. Larson, who proved last year probably the greatest stroke oar California has ever had, is still in college, but has transferred to the medical college in San Francisco, and this will positively prevent him going out for the crew. McMillan, like Larson, last year was conceded by eastern rowing experts to be one of the best oarsmen in the California boat. He is the same Dan McMillan who has played right tackle on the California varsity football team and has been named on Walter Camp's third team. Coach Ben Wallis is not at all sure that McMillan will fill the stroke slide, but he is going to take a chance with the husky oarsman and footballer.

More than eighty men were out for the fall rowing practice at California and Wallis has now ordered regular training to start on the Oakland estuary Monday, January 16. This will probably be Wallis' last year of coaching. His private business was handicapped last year by coaching, and he now intends to have one last attempt to rebuild the crew before he finally pulls out of the coaching job. What rowing is at the University of California today, and in a great measure all along the Pacific coast, is due to Ben Wallis. He has set rowing on an elevated plane in the colleges and that he has intentions to quit after this season will prove a big handicap not only to California, but rowing in general, when he does get out.

The World Over

By FRANKLIN B. MORSE
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Followers of the ring generally are wondering if the year 1922 is going to slip past without giving Dempsey an opportunity of getting into the ring for a championship battle. Aside from the talk of Willis, the negro, and an occasional flash from the friends of Fred Fulton, there appears to be nothing in the offing that would give the fans a run for the money they would have to pay for their tickets.

The visit of the two star golfers Hutchinson and Barnes has done much to awaken the Pacific coast to the possibilities of the game; and their galleries have run well up into the four figures, even on days that were far from pleasant. In fact considerable of their play has been done under the most adverse conditions of wind and rain. The far west gets entirely too few chances of seeing the best of the golfers in action, an inspiration which goes a long way toward advancing the game.

The Olympic club of San Francisco has an annual stunt of running out to the beach on New Year's day, upon arrival, the members donning their bathing suits and taking a dip in the surf. A fine cold gale was blowing this year and those who got wet above their shins were few and far between. It was more a day to cuddle up against a log fire than cavorting about in the billows. It usually is a quick in and out process at best.

It soon will be time for the first of the challenges for the Davis tennis cup to be coming in from the foreign nations. General expectations are that there will be no diminution of interest in this blue ribbon event. As it looks as though there would be no big events among the men who sail big international boat races, tennis will have the spotlight, in a large measure, to itself. Tennis and golf seem to be having their innings.

The fellow that figured out comparative scores to dope out an easy victory for the University of California over Washington and Jefferson may have learned the fallacy of trying to work through these to the exclusion of the psychology of the game, a process no one yet has devised.

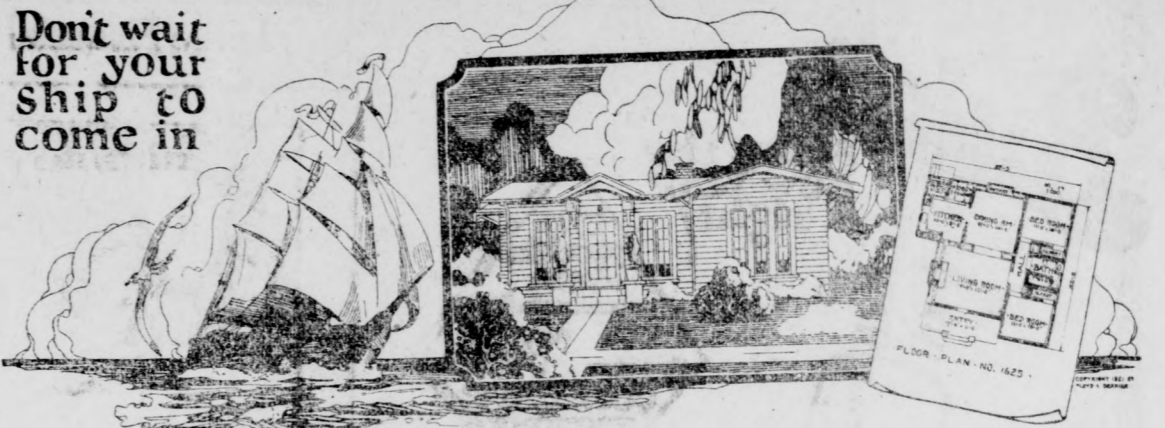

Reconstruction Aids France's Unemployed

PARIS—With only 16,000 unemployed over the whole of France, according to a recent official count, the French people are now beginning to see the silver lining in the terrible cloud of the devastated regions. While the reconstruction of these regions is going on with such infinite slowness as to be a continual tax on the patience of the inhabitants, the building that is being done is sufficient to keep practically everybody in that part of the country employed. It also has a stimulating effect on general business conditions, which are much more favorable in France than across the Channel.

down the unemployment totals is national conscription. The standing army of France is now over 800,000 men, 600,000 of which are conscripted from the native population. By retaining this huge army France has avoided the economic shock which has been felt in England and America, when the huge war armies were suddenly demobilized to an insignificant peace footing.

In justice to France, however, it should be pointed out that a large standing army has been the rule for the last forty years, and it is thus normal that over half a million men should be removed from economic life and kept in barracks at the expense of the nation. The increase in the governmental bureaucracy is still another factor in the employment situation. According to critics, the civil service is honeycombed with sinecures.

Shock Absorbing Road Proves Success and Large Financial Saving Results, Is Claimed

When a loaded motor truck weighing with its load 22,500 pounds and moving at a rate of fifteen miles an hour encounters an obstacle on the highway sufficient to give the rear wheel a drop of one-quarter of an inch the effect upon the road is practically the same as though the total weight were multiplied by three. In a sense the huge motor truck becomes a projectile and batters the pavement by a succession of mighty impacts.

Two methods of resisting impact have developed among highway engineers, one method being to seek to design a rigid powerful structure, which will withstand the impact as armor plate is expected to withstand the projectile. This method does not seek the line of least resistance but the line of most resistance. It is an effort to match the strength of the destructive agent with an equal or superior strength on the part of the defensive agent. This method calls for constantly increasing thickness of slab and more metal reinforcement, just as more powerful guns and increasingly effective armor piercing projectiles call for thicker armor.

Cushion Shock in West
 This method has found considerable favor in the eastern states, but out on the Pacific coast highway engineers have for the past quarter of a century been practicing a method of construction to which they point as the infallible solution of the impact problem because the method is founded upon the simplest dictates of common sense.

In California and Oregon they do not attempt to stop the mighty impact of the motor truck in its tracks, so to speak, but they cushion the shock. Instead of constructing a rigid slab with Portland cement concrete, sand and stone, they substitute for Portland cement, asphalt. They thus obtain an elastic slab which clings close to the earth subgrade beneath it, and absorbs the shock of impact by slightly yielding.

The western engineers say that if you put shock absorbers in the vehicle why not put them in the road. They point to repeated tests, which have shown that the elastic or rather resilient slab made of asphalt and stone shows more than double the resistance to shattering by heavy blows than has been shown by any rigid slab of similar thickness and design.

"Black Base" Lasting
 On the Pacific coast the flexible type of pavement is commonly known as "black base," because the entire slab is black with asphalt.

At Visalia, California, is a black base pavement of a total thickness of seven inches of combined base and top laid in 1894 and in good condition today with no outlay for maintenance during twenty-seven years.

More than 12,000,000 yards of black base type of pavement have been laid on the Pacific coast and over four-fifths of this large yardage are not over five inches in total thickness. The reason so thin a pavement is effective is because it reduces impact by cushioning the shock instead of resisting it, keeps the subgrade or earth foundation dry because the asphalt is waterproof. And the surface is subjected to a scarcely perceptible wear because the pavement gives off no dust.

Even where concrete, brick or block pavements have already been laid they may be protected from impact by an asphaltic cushion top, which at the same time protects rigid foundations from cracking through expansion and contraction by more nearly equalizing moisture and temperature conditions.

Saving of many million dollars by using instead of heavy reinforced rigid pavements the flexible slabs so popular on the Pacific coast will undoubtedly result as the merits of black base pavements become more widely known.

AUTO CLUB REPORTS ON CONDITION OF ROADS IN SOUTH

Damage Caused by Storm Is About Eliminated; Full Survey Is Completed

Southern California roads are now well dried out according to M. B. Towman, manager of the local branch of the Southern California Automobile Club. This organization has issued the following report in regard to nearby routes:

Coast route—Now in excellent condition and the slight damage caused by recent storms is almost eliminated.

Ventura to Santa Barbara—Conditions are now excellent from Santa Barbara to Santa Maria. The short detour at Goleta has been planked. This detour is under control, however, and cars can go north on the even hour and south on the half hour. Several miles of new pavement have been opened between Gaviot Pass and Zaca leaving only 6 miles of dirt road located between Buellton and Zaca. Travel now follows the regular line of the highway and it is no longer necessary to go by way of Solvang and Los Olivos. The road is paved from Zaca to Santa Maria. Boulevard conditions prevail from Santa Maria north to San Luis Obispo, Paso Robles, Salinas and King City to San Francisco. The pavement is broken only by one short detour one-eighth mile long at the south approach to Gilroy.

Valley Route Excellent
 Valley route—Offers excellent boulevard conditions. Although maintenance work is under way in a number of places no bad detours are necessary. Conditions are excellent over the Ridge Route today to Bakersfield. Resurfacing and widening work is under way between the foot of the mountains and Bakersfield necessitating slow driving. Conditions are excellent from Bakersfield to San Francisco although there is a short detour avoiding maintenance work between Turlock and Modesto.

San Diego coast route—Has thoroughly recovered from the effects of the storm and temporary bridges have been erected south of Oceanside at Cardiff and Torrey Pines.

Los Angeles and Fullerton—At present we are urging travel to use Stephenson avenue, Telegraph road, Santa Fe Springs, Norwalk and Buena Park road to avoid the rough detour at La Habra and the one at Montebello on the main Whittier road.

Foothill Route Is Open
 Foothill boulevard—Again open to travel. The bridge across the San Gabriel river between Duarte and Palmdale. Not advisable to follow main road from Lancaster north along the railroad as it is under construction and the detours are deplorable. Turn left at Lancaster over fair dirt road to Del Sur and then north to Willow Springs.

Long Beach boulevard—Still closed as the bridge is out over the Los Angeles river. Advise Harbor boulevard to Wilmington or the road via Downey and Clearwater as the main road between Downey and Norwalk is closed with bridge out.

The Los Feliz bridge between Hollywood and South Glendale is still closed.

TAX ON TIPS RESULTS
 LONDON—London hairdressers have received an official request to include the amount of their tips in their income tax returns. This follows a similar demand upon railmen.

Forest Lawn

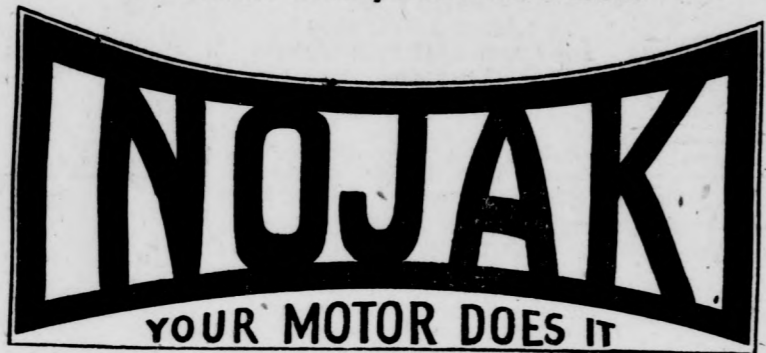

Approximately 250 acres of park, protected from industrial encroachment by the adjacent everlasting hills.

Forest Lawn is more than a Park Cemetery; it is the only institution in California under one ownership, where our loved ones can be laid to rest in any manner that their wishes dictate—be it earth burial, mausoleum crypt, cremation, columbarium niche or private vault. The term Memorial Park has thus been given Forest Lawn, because it embraces all these different forms of burial. Every department of Forest Lawn is under one management and operated under one overhead expense—a decided economy by which every purchaser is benefited.

Twilight Recital
 for Organ Fund
 Sunday Afternoon

REV. JAMES S. O'NEILL,
 Pastor of Holy Family Catholic Church Here Who Is Signally Honored by Recital Stars.

Announcement of the series of twilight recitals at the Glendale theatre for the benefit of the Holy Family church organ fund, the first of which will take place tomorrow (Sunday) afternoon at 4:15 o'clock, has caused considerable comment among the citizens here, for the list of patrons and patronesses include the most prominent people of southern California. Then, again, the contributing artists are all of national renown. Probably no one recital in any city has had so many stage and opera stars.

Naturally, the question arises: How does this come about? In the words of Harry Girard, who is personally directing the recitals, it is a tribute to the Rev. James S. O'Neill, pastor of the Holy Family parish, whose good work is known well in Glendale, Hollywood and Los Angeles. For instance, when Truly Shattuck, dramatic soprano, was asked to appear, she told Mr. Girard that all he needed to do was tell her the time and place. Virginia Almsworth, contralto, gave a similar answer while Alma Murphy-Half promised to be present and tell stories. James Burroughs, lyric tenor, was one of the first artists who pledged his aid while Carl Gantvoort, Frank C. Egan, Mrs. Herman D. Ryus and Paul Carson all were delighted at the invitation extended them by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Girard, the latter known as Agnes Cain-Brown, soprano, in making tomorrow afternoon's concert equal to any of the series.

'Johnny' Myers Has Best of Bout With Pasadena Battler

Gosh! Somebody said in The Evening News that "Johnny" Myers, local fireman, lost a fight at Pasadena the other night. Not by a darn sight! That battling boy from Station No. 2 drove his opponent, "Knockout" Johnson of the Pasadena fire department, into the corner and he stopped only because the towel was thrown into the ring. However, they are booked to box again January 26 in the gymnasium of the Arcadia balloon school and it is mighty probable Glendale will make Pasadena look like 30 cents, for Myers helped decorate this city's Tournament of Roses float. His brother, Ralph Myers, of the public service department, and "Pat"ling Essex" of the Tropico Transfer company are scheduled to box also—but not with each other. None of the opponents for the local boys have been named yet. The bouts are being arranged for an amateur benefit for the army air-men's athletic fund.

All Home Comforts Well Provided in This Oldsmobile Car

Extolling the comforts of an Oldsmobile, Richard R. Butler and wife and four children of Fergus Falls, Minn., arrived in Glendale last week and called on P. C. Brown of the Glendale Realty company. Their car is equipped like a Pullman, with every convenience for living en route. Two berths, a stove, lavatory, dining equipment and electric lights are included in the car which was placed on a new Oldsmobile chassis the latter part of October and the two-month trip overland was a continual round of pleasure. "They tell me about winter travel west, but I never had to change a tire, had no mechanical difficulty and I am more than satisfied with my purchase. However, I may have to sell the camp car if I decide to locate here." It was his intention to return to Minnesota, but the prosperity has captivated the entire Butler family. Nobody believes in lying, but until something better is offered what is poor human nature to do when it is neither wise nor expedient to tell the truth?

SAFETY IN NUMBERS, EH?
 NEW YORK—Harry Bruhoff, a chauffeur, was arrested for speeding and upon being searched was found to be wearing two pairs of trousers. He explained that he kept his money in the pockets of the pair underneath to fool hold-up men.

Well Planned Show Is Being Presented on T. D. & L. Stage

The week-end vaudeville road shows which Melklejohn & Dunn bring to the T. D. and L. theatre every Friday and Saturday are looked forward to by the theatre-goers of Glendale. This week-end the show is particularly well planned. Tossing people in the air and juggling them with perfect nonchalance, Sebastian Pina, is sure to create much comment in the act which he presents together with the Royal Pina troupe of whirlwind acrobats. There are several clever children in this act. The musical end of the bill will be taken care of while Time and Ward, sensational cyclists, have a novel act which takes every audience by storm. Their act contains trick riding as well as feats of daring combined with comedy. Jack Holt has risen to stardom due to hard work, reinforced by talent. Mr. Holt's progress as a screen player is another demonstration of the fact that personal magnetism coupled with ability to interpret roles naturally, wins a definite place in the photoplay world. "The Call of the North" is the first picture in which Mr. Holt is starred and it provides the film feature.

'Gipsy Blood' From Opera 'Carmen' at T. D. & L. on Sunday

Pola Negri, famous actress, in "Gipsy Blood" which opens at the T. D. & L. theatre tomorrow, Sunday, catches the spirit of the French author's conception of "Carmen" and the fiery cigarette girl of Seville. Perhaps no other opera has enjoyed a more lasting success than the immortal "Carmen." Certainly no one can say with any great degree of accuracy just how often it has been sung. But now for the third time this fascinating tale of old Spain has been transferred to the screen, only on this occasion the original French version has been used—and this is far different from the libretto of the opera. To this feature production there are added two comedy productions, "Just for Fun" and "The Country Chickens"—laugh provokers and Kinograms, the world's events in "movie" news. Geo. Olse, organist, will render his usual popular selections at the master organ.

William A. Pfeifer In New Cycle Shop

William A. Pfeifer is now "at home" to his friends, 110 South Maryland avenue, in his new cycle shop. He likes his new location somewhat better than his former location at 141 South Brand boulevard because his new store gives him more light in which to make repairs and displays his line of new wheels and their accessories. Next Tuesday he will hold speed and endurance contests for cyclists.

New Studebaker Is Proving Popular in Southland, Reported

What Studebaker was going to do for 1922 excited the curiosity of the motoring public until the opening of the New York Automobile Show, when the new models and new prices were announced and displayed. A few days after the big eastern show opened several carloads of sample cars began to arrive in southern California and upon the news of their arrival the salesrooms of the Packer Auto company, local distributors, became the drawing point for an interested lot of prospective buyers, many of whom placed orders for early delivery. There are so many refinements and improvements in the new cars that have added to their beauty or performance that it is impossible to write an adequate description of them that would convey a full impression of the changes. That the new cars handle easier in the special six and big six models has been remarked by Studebaker owners who have driven the new models. They have found that all former difficulty of shifting gears has been overcome even for the beginners who used to find that the gears clashed when a change of speeds was made. This was overcome by the adoption for the special and big six models of the same type of single plate Studebaker designed clutch that was introduced in the light six when it came on the market two years ago. According to the factory engineers this new clutch has the same simplicity and efficiency that was so pronounced in the cone type but it has in addition a greater ease of handling the gears and more accessibility. While the factory is making large shipments to all parts of the country they are not running up to full production as yet and if the orders continue to come in as fast as they have since the arrival of the new cars, S. C. Packer does not expect to be able to make immediate delivery for some time to come.

Burbank Election Is Not Legal, So Judge Craig Rules

It is illegal to publish Los Angeles' debt statement on annexation ballots, according to Judge Gavin W. Craig's ruling in the district court of appeal yesterday. Therefore, the Burbank ballot in 1920, which so decidedly defeated Los Angeles' efforts to grab that thriving industrial municipality, was illegal. If Burbank holds a new election it will be conspicuous for its consolidation wording, but like the marriage ceremony sometimes worded "for better or for worse." However, Burbank, like Glendale, has found prosperity and happiness in freedom from the octopus. Neither seemingly seeks the nonentity of civic pride nor the reputation of Hollywood or San Pedro.

HEAVY LEGAL SHOTS FIRED AT P. E. BY CITY ATTORNEY

Bert P. Woodard, in Behalf of Fight on Fares, Presents Amended Complaint

AIDS LOWER FARES FIGHT

BERT P. WOODARD

City Attorney of Glendale, who presents amended complaint to State Railroad Commission containing numerous reasons why Glendale, he says, should not have to pay increased fares.

(c) That applicant city's credibly informed and believes and therefore alleges that the increase in rates upon local service rendered by petitioner company in the City of Los Angeles under said order, will not be sufficient to make said service self-sustaining, and that said service will continue to be a direct burden and charge upon the whole railroad system operated by petitioner company, and will require passengers traveling on the interurban lines operated by petitioner company, and particularly those traveling upon the lines serving applicant City of Glendale, to pay a substantial portion of the losses that are being and will continue to be made in carrying on said service in said City of Los Angeles.

Fares Are Cited

(d) That under said order a passenger may travel on the local lines of petitioner company in said City of Los Angeles for ten cents a greater distance than he may travel as an interurban passenger, between the main station of petitioner company in said City of Los Angeles and applicant City of Glendale, for which latter ride the passenger must pay not less than 23 cents one way, 38 cents round trip, $4.40 for a thirty ride family book, and $6.03 for a monthly 62-ride commutation book on which, under ordinary circumstances, the passenger will lose at least eight rides for the reason that he will rarely ride on Sundays.

Revenue Too Great

(e) That said increases in said rates allowed by said order affecting applicant City of Glendale and its citizens, are too great and will return petitioner company a greater net revenue for the service rendered to them than should be paid for said service, and result in discrimination, inequality, unfairness and hardship against applicant city of Glendale and its inhabitants and citizens, in this: that the increased rates are discriminatory as hereinbefore pointed out, and are unequal and unfair for the same reasons, and that they will result in depreciating property values in applicant city of Glendale, will prevent other people from moving into and living in said city, will tend to deplete the population of said city for the reason that a large number of its citizens and residents who are constant travelers over the lines of railroad operated by petitioner company running to said city of Los Angeles, cannot afford to pay said increased rates, and that said increased rates will tend to further congest said city of Los Angeles, to the damage and detriment of all of its citizens and the surrounding communities.

Violation Alleged

(f) That said order of the 24th day of December, 1921, and the imposition of rates charged by petitioner company for transportation of passengers by petitioner company, put into effect under said order and pursuant to special permission granted therefor by the Honorable Railroad Commission, over the lines of railroad of petitioner company between the station stops in applicant city of Glendale and the main station of petitioner company in said city of Los Angeles, are and each of them in violation and contravention of the provisions of Section 21 of Article XII of the Constitution of the State of California, in this: that each of said charges as through or interurban rate is greater than the aggregate of the intermediate or local rates for said transportation; and that all or practically all of the through or interurban charges for transportation of passengers by petitioner company on its other lines of railroad running out of said city of Los Angeles, so put into effect and permitted, are likewise in contravention of said provisions of the Constitution of the State of California.

No Adequate Terminals

(h) That there are no satisfactory or adequate terminal stations or waiting room facilities in said city of Los Angeles for the lines of petitioner company serving applicant city of Glendale and its citizens, and the passengers carried by petitioner company over said lines from Los Angeles to applicant city of Glendale are required to stand in an open shed located on East Sixth street between Main and Los Angeles streets or to stand upon the public street itself when waiting for transportation to applicant city.

That the number of cars operated upon the lines of petitioner company and serving said city of Glendale and its citizens are not sufficient to properly accommodate and transport the passengers or patrons of said lines to and from the city of Los Angeles; that the cars operated over said lines, especially in the rush portions of the day, are crowded to such an extent that a great portion of the people patronizing said lines are forced to stand while on said cars, while others are unable to obtain standing room without great delay and long waiting upon the streets or in said open shed on East Sixth street between Main and Los Angeles streets.

Used by Local Cars

That the lines of petitioner company serving said city of Glendale are also used by local street cars for approximately one-half the distance between the city of Los Angeles and applicant city of Glendale. That the alleged interurban cars upon said lines serving said applicant city of Glendale are forced to wait upon, to be delayed by, and to follow said local cars for great distances, and to wait for the switching and passing of said local and interurban cars.

That the tracks of petitioner company through a large portion of the city of Glendale are constructed above the grade of the street in said city, and at many of the street crossings there are no dedicated grade crossings over the railway tracks of said petitioner company, and applicant city alleges there are no dedicated grade crossings at Cerritos avenue, Eulalia avenue, Laurel avenue, Acacia street, Garfield avenue, Milford street, Burnett street and Arden avenue. That the condition of said railway tracks and said crossings are dangerous and unsightly and are a constant menace to said applicant city and its citizens.

That Bus Line

That since said order of December 24, 1921, said petitioner company has established a bus line in said city as a feeder to its said lines in said city. There is one bus operating in said city, and same is insufficient in that it is impossible for said bus to connect with but a very few of the interurban cars operating between said city of Glendale and the city of Los Angeles. That it is necessary for the patrons of said bus line and said railway to stand and wait upon the street at the points where said bus line connects with said interurban line for indefinite and long periods. That there are no waiting facilities at any point along said line of said interurban railway or along the route of said bus for accommodation of the passengers patronizing said bus line.

X-Ray Eyes of 'Zillah' Lure to the Glendale Theatre

'Zillah,' the girl with the x-ray eyes, headlines the vaudeville show at the Glendale Theatre tonight, an all-star eastern aggregation brought here by the Bert Levey coast-to-coast circuit. It is said that nature has endowed her with some wonderful gifts, including a charming personality. She awes her audiences with an almost uncanny scene.

Rottach & Miller will present Bits of Musical Comedy while Mendel & Caesar have an instrumental offering which will please Glendale audiences. William Durant, alias 'Sing Hi,' has an Oriental novelty number and the Goldies provide a comedy scream.

Two Concerts Will Be Given on Sunday

Two concerts, not to be confused, will be given at the Glendale Theatre tomorrow, one at 4:15 o'clock, which is the first of a series of monthly twilight recitals for the benefit of the Holy Family church organ fund. The other is in conjunction with the regular evening entertainment with Miss Truly Shattuck, world-famed soprano, as the soloist. Paul Carson will offer several organ numbers and an unusually strong picture program will be presented, including the picturization of Myrtle Reed's great story, 'Lavender and Old Lace.' Marguerite Snow, Louis Bannison and Sena Owen are seen in the stellar roles. This Reno movie film is credited with being one of the sweetest and cleanest stories in which none of the beauty has been lost in its production for the silver sheet.
